The Arkansas Water Resources Center publishes this e-newsletter each month to highlight research, faculty, news and important events.

November 2013

New e-newsletter

In an effort to further our outreach initiatives, the Arkansas Water Resources Center is proud to announce the addition of this monthly e-newsletter. We envision this being a source of information about our current projects, events, faculty and students. If there is anything you would like to see included, or if you have an event to highlight, please contact our graduate assistant, Tara Johnson, at tljohnso@email.uark.edu.

A New Partnership

The Arkansas Water Resources Center has started a partnership with the University of Arkansas.

Student Spotlight

Morgan Welch, a biological engineering graduate student, collects samples from a stream in Northwest Arkansas.

Department of Agricultural Education, Communications and Technology (AECT) to assess and improve communications initiatives. Leslie Edgar, an associate professor in the AECT department and a graduate student, Tara Johnson, are working on the project. The AWRC and the Cooperative Extension Service have funded a year-long assistantship for Johnson during which she will be conducting research for her master’s thesis and providing communications expertise.

U.S. Geological Survey 104B program as instituted by the Water Resources Research Act of 1984. This year we are soliciting two different types of proposals: (1) faculty research proposals and (2) proposals that supplement graduate or undergraduate student research.

For specific information, please review the complete request for applications (RFA).

Please contact the AWRC if you have any questions. Brian E. Haggard, director haggard@uark.edu (479) 575-2879
